

FUTURIST. HUMANIST. SPEAKER.

Caroline Chubb Calderon

Caroline is a futurist and humanist. As a futurist, she studies the impact of autonomous and intelligent machines on business and society. And, as a humanist, she is dedicated to working with visionary leaders to become conscious custodians of our AI future.

Caroline's work is uniquely devoted to reimagining the future of humanity in the age of intelligent machines. In particular, she explores the role we humans can play in the coming redefinition of human-machine relationships, what it means to be human in a world of limitless algorithms, the future of work and society, and, most especially, how we might develop leaders to lead this revolution with integrity, ethics and a view towards multi-generational benefit. With her team at HelloHumanity, she works with future-shapers to enhance the qualities of humanity that are so critical at this AI development juncture, and will continue to set us apart from robots, machines and algorithms — such as ethical and moral decision-making, imagination, socio-emotional intelligence, and daring + visionary leadership.

Caroline is a sought-after executive “future coach” and a trusted strategic advisor. She is considered a leading voice on a wide range of topics including digital transformation, the opportunity/challenges of the coming exponential society, disruptive innovation, human-machine futures and AI, and visionary and daring leadership. She has spoken at TEDx and on prominent stages with audiences up to 5,000 people. She is actively involved with IEEE's working groups defining the standards for Ethical AI, has contributed to two seminal books on disruptive leadership, worked with some of the most imaginative organizations on the planet, guest lectured at many top MBA schools and leadership forums, and won awards for her work with Fortune 100 clients.

Caroline's keynotes, speeches and presentations are renowned for moving audiences with profound insights into our likely futures and inspiring invitations to elevate our collective vision for humanity. Caroline is highly regarded as a global advisor to many business leaders around the globe. Her diverse list of clients includes Google, Microsoft, Verizon, UBS, Unilever, RBS, BBDO, Oppenheimer Funds, Emirates Airlines, Coty, L'Oreal, Estée Lauder, Indeed, Time Warner Inc., (now Warner Media), PepsiCo, IBM, Pfizer, GSK, Astra Zeneca, and many others.

A true thought leader in the futurist space, Caroline is above all a dedicated humanist who believes that all technological progress should further collective flourishing (people + planet). Her most meaningful work focuses on humanizing leadership in the age of AI. Caroline is a Certified Dare to Lead™ Facilitator based on the research of Dr. Brené Brown, and embeds it in everything she does. She is also a senior meditation teacher and brings the ethics of western and eastern wisdom into her work. She fuses together the fields of innovation, emotional intelligence, mindfulness, ethics, purpose-driven leadership, behavioral science, and neuroscience to prepare executives to take their most important helm — to lead for humanity.

Prior to HelloHumanity, Caroline worked at Switched On Partners, ?WhatIf! Innovation, Booz Allen and Segal Consulting to help clients envision the future, mobilize disruptive growth, and develop wise, ingenious, and compassionate leaders.

She holds an MBA from the University of Chicago Booth School of Business and a BA from Dartmouth College. Caroline also speaks 5 languages, which is a reflection of a nomadic existence and thirst for adventure. She lives outside of New York City with her family and spotted Dalmatian. Her two bright, heartfelt, and joyful children are her true compass and reason for being.
